Choir

St Michael's Parish Choir is delighted to announce that ten of its members along with members of Castledermot's Assumption Choir and other singers from Carlow Cathedral Choir and Carlow Choral Society will perform -

Aifreann Lorcáin Ua Thuathail -

a special and historic liturgical celebration marking the 800th Anniversary of the Canonisation of Saint Laurence O'Toole here in our parish church on Sunday 8th February, at 12 noon.

This commemorative Mass will feature music arranged by Brian Kehoe, organist and composer with the Assumption Choir, Castledermot. The combined choirs will be conducted by Seamus O'Briain, musical director of the Assumption Choir.

The Mass will include a very special performance by Celtic Tenor, James Nelson, who will sing a the psalm.

An opportunity to honour the legacy of Saint Laurence O'Toole through sacred music.

St Michael's Parish Choir warmly invite all members of the public and those with a devotion to Saint Laurence to join us.

New Boiler for St Michael's Church

A new boiler is being installed in the Church.
The work will take two to three weeks to complete.
It will replace the current boiler which is old, cracked,
leaking, and inefficient.
The cost of €68,000 will be covered by a very generous bequest from a late parishioner.

HOLY HOUR

in St Michael's Church on Tuesdays in Parish Church from 2.30pm - 3.30pm

Catechetical Corner - 'A handy spot to put the book?'

Imagine being invited out to dinner and being fed twice, now wouldn't that be great? That is what happens every time we come to holy Mass, we get fed twice. Once in Holy Communion from the altar, or the Table of the Eucharist, by which we 'grow in holiness' And once from the Table of the Word, the Ambo, by which we 'grow in wisdom' (LM 10)

The Ambo, or as it is sometimes, incorrectly, called the Pulpit, is not merely a convenient place to put down the Lectionary – the Lectionary is the name given to book that contains the readings for the Liturgy, it is not a Bible but contains readings from the Bible. The Ambo, is much more than a mere lectern or book stand. It may have carvings or engravings on it. These carvings may, for example, represent the Four Evangelists. The substantial nature of the Ambo, the carvings, it's positioning in the sanctuary should serve to tell us that this is a significant piece of sanctuary furniture, it is important and it has meaning.

So why not just a simpler bookstand or lectern? Well, the Second Vatican Council says this: "He [Christ] is present in His word, since it is He Himself who speaks when the holy scriptures are read in the Church" (Decree on Sacred Liturgy). In paragraph 24, the same document says: "Sacred scripture is of the greatest importance in the celebration of the liturgy. It is from scripture that lessons are read and explained in the homily and psalms are sung; the prayers, collects, and liturgical songs are scriptural in their inspiration and their force, and it is from the scriptures that actions and signs derive their meaning." We don't use the Altar as a table, so too His presence in the proclaimed word requires an equal degree of reverence. The General Instruction on the Roman Missal (GIRM) says this: "From the ambo only the readings, the responsorial Psalm, and the Easter Proclamation (Exsultet) are to be proclaimed; it may be used also for giving the homily and for announcing the intentions of the Prayer of the Faithful" Just as the Altar table is reserved for the Offering of and receiving the Eucharist, the Ambo is to be reserved for these sacred functions, because "The celebration of Mass in which the word is heard and the Eucharist is offered and received forms but one single act of divine worship" (LM, 10). The document on Divine Revelation of Vatican II says: "The Ambo is not just a convenient place to put the book down, it is much more than that and deserving respect. (taken from article by Denis R. McNamara on Adoremus.org)
